

THE DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20505

12 August 1974

Brigadier General James L. Brown, USAF
DCS/Intelligence
Department of the Air Force
Headquarters Strategic Air Command
Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska 68113

Dear General Brown:

The DCI has given me your letter to him of 1 August with its much appreciated invitation to me and three of my colleagues to visit the Strategic Air Command.

I appreciate the invitation very much, am delighted to accept it and am looking forward to the visit. As you know, Mr. Stoertz and [redacted] are already planning to visit SAC during the first week in September in connection with work on NIE 11-3/8.

[redacted] If Washington duties permit, I hope to get away before Labor Day for a few days with my family at the beach. I suggest, therefore, that I plan to call you during the first week in September to arrange a mutually convenient time for [redacted] and me to take up your kind invitation. We can either come separately or come together depending on our respective schedules here and your preferences.

I look forward to meeting you in person and to having an opportunity to see SAC at first hand, particularly in light of the regard I have long felt for the importance of SAC's responsibilities and the professionalism with which they are discharged.

With best regards.

Sincerely yours,

[redacted]
